CHILD ABDUCTION AND RECOVERY UNIT COMPLAINT FORM

If a custody or visitation order has been entered by a court who has jurisdiction to issue a custody/visitation order and the child(ren) is taken or detained by another person in violation of the order, California law provides that the district attorney shall take all actions necessary to locate and return the child(ren) and the person who violated the order and to assist in the enforcement of the order by use of any appropriate civil or criminal remedy.

In order to bring an action before the family law court, you must file the proper documentation. The District Attorney's Child Abduction and Recovery Unit (CARU) cannot file those papers for you or represent you in court. You have no attorney-client relationship with CARU and, therefore, any information you provide to CARU is not entitled to the protection of the attorney-client privilege. However, all the information contained in CARU files is confidential pursuant to Family Code section 17514 and may be released only as authorized by statute. Your address and telephone number will not be released to the other parent without your authorization or order of the court. If you cannot afford to hire a private attorney to assist you, you can obtain helpful information about how to proceed with your case from the following: <http://www.ventura.courts.ca.gov/self-help.html> and <http://www.courts.ca.gov/selfhelp-custody.htm>.

You should know that, if the court thinks it appropriate, you may be held liable for all costs incurred by CARU in the enforcement of family law court orders, including the cost involved in locating and returning the child(ren) to the jurisdiction of the court.

This Questionnaire you are filling out is the equivalent of filing a police report. Upon completion, you will sign this document under penalty of perjury. Please answer each and every question to the best of your ability. It is important to be as thorough as possible. Be aware that making a false police report and making a false statement under oath are crimes punishable by fine and imprisonment.
